PROFIL

My energy is infectious!

Seeing leaders, teams, and companies surpass themselves is what drives me – and is also the result of my work. I put a lot of passion into empowering my customers to explore new possibilities for action, to master challenges, and to write individual success stories. I make sure that my customers get exactly what they need. I achieve this through a combination of being highly sensitive to different needs and untapped potential on the one hand, and applying my broad methodological know-how on the other.

When implementing training sessions and workshops, my customers find me energetic, refreshing, and enthusiastic. My attitude as a trainer and facilitator is significantly influenced by various basic principles of applied improvisation. In terms of conceptual collaboration, I offer convincing, well-founded knowledge and creative ideas – combined with a high quality standard.
